DOORWAYS TO DIVERSITY: Seeking a Home in the World

Processing Conflicts around Borders and Boundaries in Culturally Diverse Societies

24–29 April 2008 Royal National Hotel, Bloomsbury, London, UK

Many societies are concerned with what it means to live in culturally diverse ways. Where and how can everyone find a home in today's world? How does being at home relate to our inner personal worlds and outer diversity? Core issues like migration, asylum, privilege, marginalisation and discrimination in multi-cultural societies need to be more clearly understood. How is the planet earth to be cared for and to be a home for us all?

Worldwork is a new method that combines innerwork and community building. By bringing awareness to the many parts and experiences in any conflict, opportunities emerge to transform communities locally and globally. Worldwork focuses on bringing awareness to all dimensions of our interactions. Its orientation is at once personal, political and spiritual.

London has the proud distinction of being one of the world's most culturally diverse cities. It is the ideal venue to explore the theme of diversity and seeking a home in the world.

We welcome groups that are diverse including in terms of nationality, ethnicity, gender, sexuality, class background, age, physical ability, spiritual traditions and more.

The seminar is sponsored by the Global Process Institute and hosted by RSPOPUK in partnership with CFOR UK, Annwin Slovakia and Udruga MI Croatia, and will be led by an international team of worldwork facilitators including founders Arnold and Amy Mindell.

Scholarships and work study positions

We recognize the unequal distribution of financial resources in the world and encourage applications for scholarships or work study positions where this would enable individuals to attend.

We are grateful to all who contribute to our scholarship fund. This helps to make worldwork more accessible. Please contact us if you wish to help with this fund.
